Dear Wesley Place on Honeysuckle Family and Friends:

It is difficult to believe that the new environments at Wesley Manor, now Wesley Place on Honeysuckle (see last month if you missed that!), have been under construction and interior renovation for almost 8 months! We have witnessed much during that time, from demolition and clearing of land, to the earliest hint of new structure and now exterior understanding. I know we all take great pride in the feeling of awe that has been impressed upon interested persons as well as so many passersby at Wesley Place on Honeysuckle's revival. I cannot help but think we are all witnessing together a remarkable moment in time as we prepare for the future. How blessed we are indeed!

As awesome as the physical changes have now become, our greater focus is undoubtedly the quality of life that will be generated inside these buildings through our implementation of the "household" model of care. My numerous previous writings to you have detailed much of what is involved in this transition, and our teams of associates are entering the final stages of redesigning our organizational infrastructure. Please continue to pray for their guidance, wisdom and strength.

Many of the interior renovations are now fully on display in the South, Samford and general common areas, and we are closing in on the completion of the new rehabilitation center – The Rehab Inn at Wesley Place on Honeysuckle! We anticipate occupancy of The Rehab Inn to be toward the end of November, and remain on schedule to complete the remaining renovations by February, 2017. Much more on that to come!
